PURCHASED BY JAMES B. SHAHAN

Plaut-Cadden Property Secured and New Fireproof Building will be Erected at Once—Entrance Through the Shannon Building.

An important real estate deal was put through on Friday, when James B. Shahan purchased the Plaut-Cadden property in Main street east of the Shannon building, the one-story building on which was destroyed at the time the Shannon building burned. This deal has been under way for a long time, the previous owners having decided not to build, owing to the small lot and the amounting cost to lease would be occupied by the walls and doorways necessary if more than a one-story building was erected, although directly after the fire it was given out that they intended erecting a six-story building there.

Mr. Shahan stated Friday that he intends to erect a building on the property, which is 22 feet wide and runs back 89 feet. The new building will be of the same general style as the Shannon building which it will adjoin and will be either three or four stories in height. It will be of reinforced concrete construction, the brick to be built as in the larger building now being erected. On the ground floor there will be a store, while the offices on the floors above will be reached through the Main street entrance to the Shannon building.

Owing to the grade of the street the ground floor of the new building will be lower than that of the Shannon building, but it will be of the level of the old floor there, it is thought.

This purchase is an advantageous one for Mr. Shahan, as the new building will probably be erected on the lines of the former one, thus allowing an airway in the back for light in the main building. Other owners could have shared out the light by building their wall on their line. The erection of the building will add to the attractiveness of the street and be a decided improvement over the former one-story structure there. This like his many other building operations is another instance of Mr. Shahan's progressiveness.

Chief Stanton Returns From CHIEFS' CONVENTION.
Session at Grand Rapids Was a Profitable One—Continued Trip to Chicago.

Chief Howard L. Stanton has returned from attending the thirty-seventh international association of fire chiefs at Grand Rapids, Mich., where he was present Thursday evening. He was accompanied on the trip of about ten days by Mrs. Stanton, and a delightful time was enjoyed.

With a party of thirty-three chiefs and ladies from New York and New Jersey, Chief and Mrs. Stanton first stopped at Niagara Falls, where they were entertained by Commissioner Isaac and the chief, and from there they went by boat to Detroit and thence to Grand Rapids, where they arrived about 10 o'clock and were met by the local fire chiefs.

One day of the convention was devoted to the new apparatus and the automobile apparatus is the coming thing. The auto chemical and hose wagons are extensively used in many states, while the auto engine is also used, but there is a chance for much improvement in the last named. Many cities are getting the auto apparatus in the interest of economy.

Officers elected were: President, Chief G. W. Horton, Baltimore; vice president, Chief Thompson, Toronto; W. L. Young, secretary, Detroit; James McCall, treasurer, Detroit; F. Larkin, Ohio; Connecticut vice president, Owen Hearn, New York.

The delegates were very entertained in Grand Rapids, which is a growing city of about 125,000 population. It was decided to have the next convention at Syracuse.

After the convention Chief and Mrs. Stanton visited Chicago for a short time, returning home from there.

FOOT CRUSHED IN SWITCH NEAR BOSTON
Arthur Caruthers Narrowly Escaped Being Run Over by Engine.

With his foot caught in a switch on the Boston, and Albany track at the Allston station, and with a great locomotive bearing down upon him, Arthur Caruthers of this city Thursday night suffered the tortures of approaching death, unable to move.

He was barely rescued by trainmen who heard his shrieks, and was taken to the hospital, where he was treated for a badly crushed foot, which required amputation to be necessary.

He was walking along the tracks about 8 o'clock and was just crossing the frog of the track near the Allston station, when the switchman in the tower, it is believed, threw the switch to allow the engine to leave the main track. Caruthers' foot was caught in the switch by the sudden, powerful snap of the rail, and he was held.

He shrieked with pain and tried to extricate the foot.

He saw the headlight of a switching engine coming toward him, and he believed it to be the farther track but as it drew nearer he saw, to his horror, the switch had been set to allow the engine to leave the main track.

He screamed and tugged in vain. The foot remained fast and a second brought the headlight of the big engine closer.

But a few rods remained when trainmen in the shanty at the station heard his cries and ran to the scene. Caruthers sank at last on his side in a swoon. The engine roared by just as he was dragged to safety by the herculean effort of the trainmen.

SIGNS CONTRACT WITH DOLLY VARDEN COMPANY.
G. Herbert Rich Will Be Violinist For Opera Company Which Has Bookings for Forty Weeks.

On Friday G. Herbert Rich of this city signed a contract with the Dolly Varden company, whereby he will be violinist with the company during the season, leaving with them today.

Mr. Rich, who is one of the best violinists in the city, received a flattering offer from the company, although he was playing in an orchestra at New London, where he was engaged for the season.

The company has bookings for forty weeks and is to go through the south and to the Pacific coast.

AT BROADWAY THEATER.
Dolly Varden.

There was not a large audience at the Broadway theater on Friday evening to witness the presentation of Dolly Varden. This was the fourth night for this company, which opened at Norwalk this week, and the newness was apparent, although the company evidently has the musical which will make a success of the play.

There is pretty music and those capable of handling it with a little more practice. Solos and chorus numbers were well received by the audience and encores demanded. Foolish Questions by Alf Helton, The Song of the Birds by Fildes and William Rothacker's Song of the Sword all pleased immensely, while Dolly Varden was of course tuneful and catchy.

As Dolly, Miss Fildes invented the part with an abundance of life, and the music was of singing little bits that is catching. In her disguise as a boy her dainty little person was even more fetching than her singing. She was all the more so to make almost anything of this nature succeed. While she was less convincing in the second act than in the first, she was good throughout, and certainly deserved all the praise she obtained from the audience.

As an operatic star her brilliance is of the first magnitude. It isn't every prima donna who can keep the leading man going on "prompts" and enriched with the music. The piece is pretty continued and set.

Alden MacClasie was the Captain Bellville, George Odell the Harcourt, William Fildes the Effax, and Lord Gayspark was played by Alf Helton, well played all the way, and Bernice Bartlett, ample of voice and physique, was the Letitia.

TAKEN SICK ON STREET.

He was taken to the Backus hospital, where at midnight it was learned that he was sleeping and resting easily.

Boat Relunched.
A new power launch, christened the Mary Day when it was launched some time ago, was put into the water at the Chatham Boat club this week by the Buckingham brothers, who have been the builders and can show a very creditable piece of work for the many hours spent on it this season and last in their spare moments. The boat is not quite finished, but will soon be completed and running.

Arrested for Theft.
About 1 o'clock Friday noon C. F. Lewis, newsdealer, reported to Acting Chief Linton that a window brush had been stolen from his store in Broadway by a tramp. The day men were informed of the facts and the brush was located at the store of S. Mikolaj, who bought it for 20 cents. About 3 o'clock Policeman Maloney arrested W. Hamilton, who is charged with the theft.

Hot Weather Lie.
"Well," remarks Jerome Beatty, "you fellows may talk about the hot weather all you please. But I know a yarn that beats them all. It beats that old chestnut about feeling like a cracked ice to keep them from laying hard-boiled eggs; it beats your talk about taking roasted coobers right out of the hill; it beats the old tale about popcorn popping all over the field and the cow freezing to death because she thought a snowstorm had descended upon her."

"Why, a fellow was in here yesterday and told me that it was so hot a few days ago that he caught boiled fish that were still kicking out of Cow creek."—Kansas City Journal.

William H. Cheney, adjutant of Prescott post, No. 1, G. A. R., of Providence, R. City Expressman O'Brien had an exciting experience Friday afternoon, when he discovered the big umbrella over his wagon seat on fire as he was passing the Davenport Fire arms shop on West Main street. Mr. O'Brien grabbed the umbrella from its socket and with the top all ablaze whipped it and tried to throw it over the burning umbrella into the water under the horse's nose, starting him off on a run, but he was caught before he had gone far towards Main street.

THE GIRL WITH THE AUBURN HAIR

You can find her picture on every bottle of Parisian Sage. Don't let anyone press imitations on you. You can always find the genuine at The Lee & Osgood Co.

We all know that nature has not crowned every woman with glowing hair. Some very lovable women have been treated rather scantily in this respect.

If you are a woman without beautiful hair, do not permit your attractions to be hidden because of this misfortune.

Go today to The Lee & Osgood Co. and buy a large bottle of Parisian Sage for 50 cents, on money back plan, use it each night, and you will notice the harsh, repulsive hair disappear, and in its place will come soft, silky, bright and luxuriant hair. Parisian Sage is guaranteed to cure dandruff, itching of the scalp, and stop falling hair in two weeks or money back. It is the only hair dressing that is absolutely sure to kill the dandruff microbe and keep the scalp cool and clean in summer. Sold by leading druggists everywhere.
